

Organisers' Comments

The area around Will Necks can experience an amazing variety of conditions for orienteering – this time it was a low visibility mist! Our thanks are due to Jeff Pakes for planning, and Simon Beck for controlling, well researched courses at such short notice. Although the overall turnout of QO members was low, the 25% representation of JOG participants was encouraging. The open areas were appreciated by all, included the ponies who seem to have developed a taste for kites and control boxes!

Thanks to our 'team1', with apologies for my lack of communication. Hopefully Vikki Page will be more efficient at our next commitment – on 31st Jan at Buckland Wood. We had the luxury of the use of a large parking field (thanks to farmer Bill Fewings) which enabled us to avoid clashing with the other forest users in the public car park.

Judy and Roger Craddock