

GETTING STARTED

There will be a key on the map, but when you are getting started the most important things are the various black lines for paths.

Try to keep the map the oriented to the ground and your thumb where you are.

