Editorial

We have just arrived back from Austria, where we had a wonderful time. The World Masters was a good event in the area around the town of Weiner Neustadt near Vienna. Margaret then flew out and joined me for a few days holiday: sightseeing in Vienna and then in the Dachstein area where we did some walking.. I am now back to reality, gardening and serious O stuff.

At the moment there appears to be little for this newsletter but I am sure there will be plenty to come in the next few days which will tax my skills (perhaps not the correct word in these circumstances) to edit.

Chairman's Chat

On the back of our lack of success in the Football World Cup and at Wimbledon, Radio 4's 'Today' programme asked for reports of any successful activities that could provide some pride in our national teams. What a good time to highlight the silver medal obtained by our juniors at the European Youth Championships in Slovenia!

Our own orienteers continued at both ends of the age spectrum with our senior veterans reaching the finals in the World Masters and over 400 juniors from primary and secondary schools competing at Montacute and Norton Manor camps. I was privileged to help at most of these schools' events, and was particularly impressed by the energy and enthusiasm of the 'gifted and talented' Yr5/6 at Millfield. Brian Fletcher has put a great deal of time, thought and effort into these Festivals, and our thanks are due to him, also to Richard Sansbury, Mike/Margaret Crockett, Christine/Arthur Vince, Roland and Jan for making them happen.

Orienteering has continued throughout the summer with our Club Championships at Stock Hill producing a worthy winner in Bill Vigar. Several close contests between partners kept the leaders on their toes! I was able to present a number of QOFL certificates, but was disappointed not to be able to congratulate any of the winners with their trophies. Thanks to Mike Crockett for putting together the competition and social following it, and to Tony Milroy for scoring and organizing the trophies for the Club League.

We are now looking forward to the multiday events in the Lake district and Bovington, our Gallopen at Triscombe in September, and Andy Rimes' Long 'O' at Dunster.

We hope to encourage as many of the Club as possible to come to the AGM at the Ruishton Inn on the 6th October. We have some important business to discuss, an entertaining speaker, and a sporting quiz during a buffet afterwards.

As a result of your suggestions and requests, committee decisions have been made to purchase a tunnel tent and some more QO tops. It has been decided to continue to offer the Club subsidy for another order (£15 for the standard design, £20 for the 'go-faster' one). To take advantage of these contact me before the 7th August when the order will be submitted.

Farewell to Brett, Debbie and their family who are off to NZ at the end of July. We will miss them and their participation, but I'm sure they will welcome any visitors to Christchurch. We are certainly rising to the world 'O' challenge this Christmas!

Roger Craddock

News of People

Welcome to Tom Lang of Compton Bishop. Tom is a former member of BOK but lived in Taunton for many years and had close contact with QO, controlling events for us and on one occasion found a parking field for use at a badge event.

Congratulations to Alice and Zoe Round and Rhys Llewellyn– Eaton who were chosen to represent the South West at The Inter Regional competitions recently.

David Holmes and John Chesters have both retired during the last few days. I am sure you will join me in wishing them well in their new life of leisure., although Dave tells me that he is still employed until the end of August and will have to go in to do some work.

At a recent SWOA committee meeting Jan Holmes was approved as the new Galoppen Scorer.

Sarum Relays -Richard Sansbury, Ian Bartlett and Mike Crockett formed a team for the "Moonrakers Relays" at a very late stage and achieved a very creditable 3rd place at Shearwater.

Mike Nelson of BOK, a good friend of many Quantock Orienteers has recently undergone major surgery. Jenny, his daughter, tells me he is doing well and asked me to thank QO members for their good wishes.

Post Script. Mike was sent home from hospital in good health on Monday, six days after the operation.

Sadly Brian Cudmore of Devon lost a long fight against cancer .

What to do with your ticks

Ticks are a subject which are always in our thoughts when orienteering in our local forests. Did anyone see the notice on the BOF website on 21st June entitled "What to do with your Ticks"? I ask because 1. It will be of interest to quite a few of you. And 2. It will show if the present BOF website is the best way of disseminating information.

The Health Protection Agency in conjunction with the Biological Records Centre is asking for live ticks to be sent to them so that they can enhance their knowledge of the distribution of ticks in the Britain.

If you want more information look in the Archive section of News on the BOF website or give me a ring .

I sent in 2 ticks found at Cothelstone. They were identified as, One male and one female of the genus Ixodes Ricinus (sheep tick).

Club News

Notes from the QO Committee Meeting held on 25 May 2006

Clubmark. Various members have looked at the four sections in the Clubmark folder (Duty of Care / Child Protection; Coaching and Competition; Sport Equity and Ethics; Club Management); thank you to all of them for giving their time and expertise to this. The general view was that there are no insuperable difficulties if QO wishes at some point to apply for Clubmark status. However, there was a lot of preparation work to be done and most of it revolved around the presence and activities of a Junior Squad. Therefore the committee decided that the Chairman and Secretary should write a letter to BOF saying that QO wishes to remain interested in Clubmark, but that at the current time is not ready to apply formally for Clubmark approval.

QO Junior Squad and Somerset schools activities. Now that Brian Fletcher has done the BOF Level 1 and 2 coaching course, he has been appointed Manager of the QOJS and Club Coach. Two schools' festivals have been planned for Montacute on 7 June and Norton Manor Camp on 21 June, and an after-school sports club has been formed by the Yeovil schools in which orienteering is included; QO is also involved in a sports day for gifted and talented children at Millfield on 9 July. Plans are being drawn up to include events for GCSE PE students.

Permanent courses. Bob Lloyd reports that the Staple Hill permanent course will be going out of action from the beginning of August, as a result of the planned forestry work there. (This work will also mean that QO will not be holding any events on that part of the Blackdowns for quite some time to come.)

Club equipment. Two family tents were taken to the JK this year as a trial, and the Craddocks also took their tent to the National at Stourhead. This was a great success, with the club banner providing a rallying point not only for QO but also for other SW clubs. In addition, club members visited the Mountent stand at the JK to view their product. As a result, we will be buying a suitable tent, hopefully in time for use at the Lakes 5 Day event.

BOF Communications Survey. BOF has asked the clubs to prioritise the actions identified in the survey report, and your committee has duly replied. We have asked for top priority to be given to a re-vamp of the web site (as it is very difficult to use) and for a fully searchable fixtures database. (Those of you who thought that grass-roots QO members have no effect on what BOF does, please take note.)

No whistle, no run. QO has a policy of 'no whistle, no run'. This has not been much in evidence of late but will now be more heavily promoted, and whistles will be on sale at event Registration.

QO AGM. This will take place on Friday 6 October 2006 at the Ruishton Inn; further details will be circulated.

Notes from the QO Committee Meeting held on 4 July 2006

Finance. Andy Rimes reported that the club's finances are healthy. Andy asks that people provide a detailed list when giving him cheques and monies to bank, to improve accounting traceability.

Clubmark. The Chairman and Secretary are drafting a letter to BOF saying that QO wishes to remain interested in Clubmark, but that at the current time is not ready to apply formally for Clubmark approval. The committee is considering writing a development plan that will provide guidance to the growth of the Junior Squad.

QO Junior Squad and Somerset schools activities. The schools' festivals at Montacute on 7 June and Norton Manor Camp on 21 June were a great success; 200 and 450 children respectively attended these events. QO will also be involved in a sports day for gifted and talented children at Millfield on 9 July. Plans are being drawn up to provide events for GCSE PE students, and more schools festivals are planned for the new academic year.

Permanent courses. Bob Lloyd reports that the Staple Hill permanent course is now out of action as the forestry work has already started.

Club equipment. A suitable club tent is currently being chosen and hopefully it will have the club logo and name printed on it. The club equipment (kites, canes etc) needs an overhaul and a working party has been formed to do this. We are looking at new start and finish banners which look like a smaller version of the new club banner. Roger Craddock writes his Chairman's Chat about the new QO tops.

QO AGM. This will take place on Friday 6 October 2006 at the Ruishton Inn; further details will be circulated.

The next meeting of the club committee will be on Wednesday 6 September 2006.

Christine Vince, Club Secretary

Notice of Annual General Meeting for Quantock Orienteers

This will be held on Friday 6 October 2006 at the Ruishton Inn.

Travel directions will be on the agenda when issued.

The agenda will be published with QuOnicle in September.

Those entitled to vote at the AGM are: every Individual member; two members from each Family. The quorum for the AGM shall be 12 voting members including two from: Chairman, Secretary, Treasurer.

Proposed amendments to the Constitution must be received in writing by the Secretary at least 14 days before the meeting and must be signed by two voting members. Copies of the Constitution may be obtained from the Secretary.

The elected posts are: Chairman, Secretary, Treasurer plus six other members. Nominations for elected posts must have the consent of the nominee and be proposed and seconded. Nominations should be sent in writing to the Secretary beforehand but may be made from the floor at the meeting (in which case, the nominee must either be present or their written permission be produced at the meeting).

Members wishing to raise matters for discussion at the AGM are requested to notify the Secretary in writing and preferably 14 days before the meeting.

SWOA Snippets

Christine Vince, QO Secretary

A SWOA committee meeting was held on 3 May 2006.

Chairman's statement. Roger Hargreaves reported on the BOF AGM. Amongst various comments made on the new membership scheme, the point was made that, from January 2007, newcomers will have to pay £2 extra to enter events; how will individual clubs manage this? (There is an article on the new BOF membership scheme elsewhere in QuOnicle.)

Fixtures Secretary's report. The British Schools Championship on 17-18 November 2007 will be hosted by SARUM and WIM and probably held on Fonthill. For JK 2007, the SW Junior Squad will share the training day with the Welsh Junior Squad (which is likely to be a Sprint-O in Bristol).

Junior Squad report. At the recent World Schools Championships in Slovenia, Julia Blomquist won gold in the middle distance race, and Emily Benham and Alice Butt won gold in the Senior Girls Select Team. Ben Chesters won bronze in the coaches' relay, and himself coached the bronze medal winning Senior Boys Select Team. (Perhaps one day we will see the names of QO juniors appearing in the results.)

Galoppen scoring for the Brown course. Bill Vigar attended the meeting as Galoppen scorer. After further discussion on the merits of a handicap scoring system versus an open scoring system, a vote was taken. The results were: keep handicap – nil; revert to open – 5; abstentions – 4. Therefore from next season, the Galoppen scoring will change to open.

South West Development Conference at Warminster on Saturday 21 October 2006

QO has been invited to send four delegates to this conference. It is planned to hold workshops on the following topics:

- Creative use of small areas for local events
- Attracting newcomers - Overview of club initiatives, sharing good practice
- Developing club volunteers
- Junior development – Overview of club initiatives, sharing good practice
- Clubmark - what is it? - BOF support and resources
- Creating a child-safe environment - Childsafe video and discussion
- Action planning – a vision for your club

Club members should note that the conference coincides with a juniors' training day at SARUM which QO juniors will be attending. Following the conference, there will be a Sports Coach UK - Coaching Children course tutored by Hilary Palmer, open to conference delegates also. The conference will run from 10:30 am to 3:15 pm, and refreshments and a buffet lunch will be provided. The coaching course will run from 3:30 pm to 5:30 pm. The clubs pay a small fee and BOF is subsidising the remainder. QO will pay travelling expenses (at 21p per mile) and car sharing is definitely encouraged!

This is a good opportunity to meet old friends and make new ones whilst getting some good ideas to support QO. Please contact the Secretary on 01935 863429 before 6 September if you wish to go. First come, first served, as places are already being taken up.

Events

Schools Orienteering

Brian Fletcher assisted by other members of QO has been busy organising various events for schools in the South Somerset and Taunton Deane areas.

The first at Montacute was attended by about 200 pupils from local schools who enjoyed the sunshine and the chance to experience orienteering at a slightly higher level than the school playing field. At Norton Manor Camp 420 pupils were catered for. The variety of terrain within the camp gave a greater challenge than Montacute. Some coped well with the challenge but others did find it too much but still managed to enjoy themselves.

Both events were followed by an evening club event which we all enjoyed. Thanks Brian for all your efforts.

On the weekend of 8th / 9th July 2006 there was a weekend sports festival at Millfield School for 700 talented sports children of years 5 and 6 from all of Somerset. On the Saturday there was a basic skills training session and on Sunday all the children chose which sports they would like to specialise in. About 45 children choose orienteering and for 2 hours we had them running around looped courses in the schools grounds. Around two thirds of the children had never tried any orienteering before and most seemed to enjoy and pick up the sport well.

Cani-Cross

Tony Milroy

About four and a half years ago Vanessa and I took ownership of a 'stray' tan-coloured lurcher aged approximately one year. As you can imagine being a young lurcher he was full of energy and raced around the local dog-walking field. I happened to mention to my brother on the phone how quick he was and my brother replied by saying he must be a 'Victor Ludorum' – somehow from this he was named 'Ludo'!

As time went by I sometimes took Ludo on runs around the area in which I live. These runs followed a regular pattern: At the start Ludo would rush off pulling me along for all he was worth, and then after a quarter of a mile he would begin to appreciate how slow I ran and he would come down to my speed! I took him orienteering on one occasion but some difficulties became apparent. Because of his lurcher temperament I could not let him off the lead, as he was apt to chase any wild animal that he saw, (making my already slow times even slower) whilst running through a forest with a dog on the lead is not to be recommended, as we often differed about which direction we would take and which side of a tree we would go! So his running was limited to the dog field and the odd training run with me.

Vanessa then saw an article in the Weekend section of The Daily Telegraph about the sport of Cani-cross. Apparently there is an organisation which puts on around a dozen races for dogs and their owners from September to May under reasonably strict rules. I made some enquiries and found out that the last race of the season was in early May at Holme Lacy near Hereford. Thus at the end of March I put in an entry and decided that I had better get much fitter. First of all I had to buy special equipment which was needed for these races. For Ludo I had to buy a harness which went around his body so that there was no pressure on his throat (as with the usual dog collar). Secondly to keep us together I had to get a special 'bungee-type' rope and finally I had to purchase a special belt which helped to absorb the differences in pressure as the dog pulled on the rope. This also left my arms free for a smooth running action(?) So it was that all through April I trained much harder than I ever did for orienteering –after all I couldn't have sneaky stops to look at my map or punch controls in cani-cross!

Race-day arrived and we had to set off at 6 o'clock in the morning to drive to Hereford so that we could register by 8.30 and then receive the pre-race briefing and directions. In cani-cross the competitors and their dogs are set off at 30 second intervals so that there is no chance of congestion on any part of the course. I was eighth off having seen a map of the course and roughly knowing where I was going. Apparently when you are about to overtake someone you shout out 'Trail' so that they know you are there and they can go to one side. Well within a couple of minutes I had the call of 'Trail' from behind and a very fit runner swept past me! In the pre-race info I had been led to expect a nice 'parkland-type' course of about 3 miles but the reality was slightly different. It turned out to be just under 4 miles of quite difficult cross-country with plenty of mud, streams and ditches. There were also two hills, one of which was fearsome and I was pleased to see that everyone else was walking up it as well as me! It was a reasonably warm day even though it was only 10 o'clock in the morning and eventually I finished having been passed by 11 runners (and their dogs) in the race and having in turn passed 3 myself. There were some really keen fit younger runners who were running with Huskies whilst a couple of runners had two dogs with them. It was fascinating to observe the different breeds of dogs running with the 50 competitors there. Ludo was magnificent and did his very best to pull me along especially when we were passed by other competitors, but there was only so much he could do with me at the other end of the lead. This was my first taste of cani-cross and I thoroughly enjoyed the challenge but realise that I will have to get fitter if I want to do better. The next race is at Haldon, Exeter on October 22nd so that's my target. If you go onto the internet at www.canicross.co.uk you can see some nice piccys of dogs running with their owners.

World Masters Championships 2006

Mike Crockett

I travelled to Wiener Neustadt about 50 Km south of Vienna for these championships with some degree of trepidation. 251 M70 entrants and most of them Scandinavian. What was the best I could expect? To make the A final would be great, but more realistically the B. To be top Brit would be nice, but Bill was in the same heat as me so that seemed improbable.

As it happened I did beat Bill in the A final to finish 36th but unfortunately Andrew Gregory did rather better and so I was only the 2nd Brit but I felt very well pleased.

I travelled with Scottish O Tours who arrange transport and hotel accommodation. Travelling in a group does have the drawback of hanging around until everyone has finished, which this year with the intense heat was rather wearing. However we were able to pitch ourselves next to the Compass Point stand and help them by acting as watchers as well as availing ourselves of the shade beside the van.

The first event was the Warm Up which was held on a rather complicated gullied area. I had done my own entry for a 4.5Km course but most of the others including some M80s found themselves on the longest course of 7 Km and only completed part before retiring. The gullies were enormous and best avoided if possible. However there were only small ones on the other side of the hill where the qualifying races were held. I finished well down Course 9 but was glad of the chance to stretch myself.

Next day was the Park Race. Only two from the group were entered for this and I hadn't intended to do so but my name was there and so I went along. I had decided that as it was a Park Race there might be some tarmac and that trainers might be better than O shoes. We parked at the event centre and walked to the start in the town square wondering where the park was only to find that it was all within the town. The controls were on trestles and every one manned by someone in a yellow tee shirt, which didn't really help as there were so many. It was good to

Car parking made easy at the Event Centre

The opening ceremony followed this with several short speeches and a march through the town. We had to leave before prize giving for the Park Race and so Dave Harrison was unable to collect his prize at the time. A friend collected it and then came a text message to say that he had collected it and Dave would "love it". There was much speculation as to what it was. Teddy bear or Austrian Doll? It turned out to be a book in German about the town of Wiener Neustadt.

see Sue and Bill spectating as I set off and tried to get the hang of the unfamiliar symbols and map scale. Things went well and I finished 5th of the 51 M70 entries. The other Scottish O tours man finished 3rd in his race. So we were well pleased.

I had time for a chat with Sue and Bill who had just arrived after a journey through Germany during World Cup time. Ask Sue about that, and also how to pronounce Wiener Neustadt: she told me several times but I never got the hang of it.

Mike and Arthur Boyt at the Start of the Park Race

Next day was a rest day with a chance to do some Model events near the areas to be used for the main races. In the afternoon some of us took the opportunity to look at Vienna and get the hang of the transport system. Then it was down to the real thing, two Qualifying races with aggregate time deciding the position in the heats with (in the case of the M70s and W55s) top 20 going to the A final, next 20 to the B etc. At Qual 1 Sue and I had steady runs and finished comfortably in the top 20, Bill not too good was down in 29th with a lot to do if he was to make the A final.

Next day Bill had a storming race to finish 2nd and into the A final. Sue and I had similar results to the previous day and maintained our positions safely qualifying for the A final..

Next day, my birthday, was a "rest" day. We travelled up the nearby mountain by train where Scottish O tours produced a birthday cake for myself and another Birthday boy.

A train never reaches the top of a mountain and so it was far from a rest really. We walked to the summit and surprise, surprise we met Bill and Sue coming down. Our walk was relatively easy but unfortunately Bill and Sue had a hard time getting back down to their car.

And so it was finals day. There was a rather worrying map correction notice near the main start. Forestry Work has resulted in three extra tracks and some brashings in the area near the start. The tracks were marked by blue tape on the ground. That was all we needed in what was already a very complicated area. I must admit that I didn't see any tape.

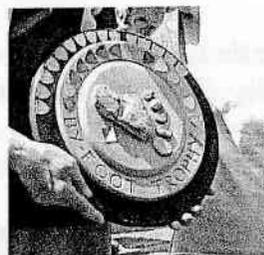

I had a reasonable run making a couple of mistakes to finish 36th but Bill unfortunately had a bad first control and never really recovered to finish 61st. The hard time on rest day had probably taken its toll. Sue finished 47th in W55.

We once more had to hang around after the event, but this time we were happy to do so as Anne Donnell of BOK had won the W75 class and obviously needed our support at the prize giving. Well done Anne.

Devon Relays—Killerton 23rd July

The Quantock Team of Bill Vigar (Chief Strategist) Sue Gard (Strategy Enforcement Officer) , Chris Philip (Pace Setter), Mike Crockett (supplier of age related benefits eg Handicap points) and Ted Heath , who did exactly as he was told, were this year's team for the Devon Relays. There was a very poor turn out of only six teams but strong competition was expected as handicap seemed to come to the fore.

In other years QO have had such a good handicap that they started well before some of the other teams. This year Wimborne and QO started together. However superior strategy and running speed triumphed and we retained the By Foot trophy by about two minutes from one of the Devon teams with Wimborne in third place..

The QO team and the By Foot trophy

The Basic rules for the Devon Relay is tha there are four maps of different technical standard and five person teams. Each map must be run three times by a different runner each time. There is a handicap system of minutes for differing age groups. Hence the older get more bonus.. A team of five M21s would start at Base time and teams start earlier than that based on the handicap. This year SI was used for the first time.

New Membership Scheme

There has been a lot of emphasis recently on the implementation of a new membership scheme for all orienteers. After many abortive attempts a new scheme was proposed and discussed at length at an EGM of BOF members in September 2005 and finally ratified at the BOF AGM in April 2006 for implementation for year commencing January 2007.

The basic concept of the new structure is that all regular orienteers should be members of BOF either as Full members or Local members. Anyone who isn't a member will be charged an increased entry fee for events.

As QO and SWOA have yet to set their membership fees for 2007, the exact fees are not yet known.

BOF are issuing bulletins as to how the scheme will be introduced for 2007. When more details are available a full statement will be produced for members and published in Quonicle. It is anticipated that this will be in the next edition in late September.

Thank you all for coming. It was a pity that more were unable to turn out. The Castle of Comfort did us proud at the buffet afterwards.

There was some banter about the handicap system and rightly so because there is no way that an M21 could win. I did consider using the QOFL final results to devise a personalised handicap but with entries on the day this would have been impossible.

Our thanks to Bristol for allowing us to use the event and their help with the entries and in particular Mike Nelson who produced a set of results so that we could calculate the winner and present the trophy at the buffet.
