NOTE: The number of controls were not the same on the three courses.

Scoring Notes: The long course had 30 controls with 10 points per control, the Medium had 20 controls with 15 points each and the Short Course had 15 controls with 20 points each. There were therefore the same total points available on all courses.

Scoring example. Roger Craddock: 14 Controls at 10 points/Cont=140, divide by 0.68 (Speed Ratio for M60)=206; Was 0 to 1 min late and lost 20 points and so total was 186.

If any M21s are wondering how they could possibly have won they would only have got 300 points for all controls, there was a bonus available. If for example an M21 had got all the controls in 42 mins 41 secs his rate of scoring would have been 300/42.68 i.e. 7.029 points per minute so his spare 7.32 minutes would have earned 51 bonus points giving him a total of 351 points. Not enough to win but nearer to the winner.
